

LIVE NEWS OF TWO PITTSSTONS

[The SCRANTON TRIBUNE'S Pittston department is in charge of J. M. Fahy, to whom news items and complaints may be referred.]

Robert Mantell, the romantic actor who was seen here in "Mouba," will present his latest success, "The Face in the Moonlight," tomorrow evening at Music hall.

Charles Root, a resident of Smithville, was admitted to the hospital yesterday. He was suffering from wounds about the shoulder inflicted by a plank falling upon him while at work at the Heidelberg shaft.

The body of the man who was killed near Mill Creek a few days ago has not yet been identified. In his pocket was found a small piece of paper containing a few words in Polish in red ink. They were translated as follows: "Good bye, Port Blanchard." This leads to the suspicion that the man committed suicide. No one seems to know him at Port Blanchard.

Matthew Flaherty, an aged and respected citizen of Avoca, was instantly killed Wednesday by a fall of rock while at work in the Avoca colliery. The funeral will be held in the morning. Requiem high mass will be celebrated in St. Mary's church, and interment will be made in St. Mary's cemetery, Avoca.

In the series of games between the New York Curling club and the local club from this place for the championship of the United States, which were played at Central park, New York, Wednesday the local team again demonstrated their ability as being the best players by beating their opponents twenty shots. The Pittston players, it will be remembered, defeated the New Yorkers here last year, and this victory brings with it another gold medal to them at the expense of the New York club.

Andrew Golic, who was run over by a Delaware, Lackawanna and Western train a short distance above the Lackawanna and Bloomsburg junction a few days ago, necessitating the amputation of both legs, died at the hospital early yesterday morning.

Holt, the colored man who was made a target of by another colored man in a shooting match several weeks ago, has so far recovered as to be considered out of danger, and his discharge from the hospital is but a question of a few days.

Another reduction in wages has been ordered to be made at Caxton by the Lehigh Valley company. Wipers who heretofore received $1.35 a day, have been cut 50 cents, making their pay 75 cents per day. Laborers in and around the yard have been cut 5 cents, making their pay $1.20 a day instead of $1.25 as formerly.

Buckley's Arnica Salve. The best salve in the world for Cuts, Bruises, Sores, Ulcers, Salt Rashes, Fever, Swellings, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Corns and all Skin Eruptions, and positively cures Piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by Matthews Bros.

TAYLOR REPUBLICANS CAUCUS.

Meet and Nominate W. P. Griffiths for the Office of Burgess.

Special to the Scranton Tribune.

The Republicans of Taylor held a caucus last evening in Weisenburg's hall. After the meeting had been called to order a committee consisting of John W. Bower, J. R. Price and John M. Harris was appointed to wait on Burgess David J. Harris, to see if he was a candidate for re-election. Mr. Harris was not in the field and so the committee reported.

The names of William P. Griffiths and Richard Morris were then placed in nomination. A vote was taken and Mr. Griffiths declared the nominee of the Republicans of Taylor. The candidate is a well known man and numbers his friends by the hundreds. He will undoubtedly be elected.

TO GRANT A FRANCHISE.

Important Meeting of the Forest City Council This Evening.

Special to the Scranton Tribune.

FOREST CITY, Pa., Feb. 8.—On account of no quorum being present last Monday evening, the council will meet in a special session tomorrow night. It is to be sincerely hoped that the members of the council will deem it their duty to be present on mass, and settle the question of the proposed street railway extension franchise, which in the name of progress should be granted.

President J. W. Aitken, of Carbondale, will be present at the meeting. The company undoubtedly, will be granted the franchise.

UP AT FOREST CITY.

An Entertaining Batch of News From a Hurling Correspondent. Special to the Scranton Tribune.

FOREST CITY, Feb. 8.—William Baker who was injured by the cars at Ararat yesterday morning on the Jefferson branch of the Erie, instead of Ontario and Western as reported in today's Tribune, died before reaching his home at Hampton, N. Y. He had been visiting a friend of his in this place two or three days previous to the accident.

Horace Greeley Likely and Russell McIntyre Shepherd, of Carbondale, spent last evening pleasantly with friends in this place.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Methodist Episcopal church held a sociable at the home of William J. Pentecost on the Wayne county side of the turbulent Lackawanna river last evening. It has been the custom for a number of years to hold a sociable at this place once a year, and the one last evening was largely attended and an enjoyable time was had.

Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Tyler were called to Tyler Hill, Wayne county, a few days ago on account of the sickness of Mr. Tyler's mother. The thorough election takes place in less than two weeks. Everything seems quiet "along the line," but there is generally a calm before the battle.

THE TRIBUNE leads in this place, others follow.

The Methodist Episcopal church parsonage will soon be enclosed, and when finished will be a handsome residence. Land Agent McCormick, of the Hillside, was in town today.

George Taylor, of Scranton, visited relatives in this place today.

NEEDLESS STARVATION

We Print Below a Most Graphic Experience from Real Life.

WVS IGNORANT OF DANGER

It is to Be Feared Few People Are Better Informed, But Fortunately There Are Some Wide-awake, Intelligent and Quick to Profit by the Suggestions of Others.

"I naturally shrink from appearing before the public, but I realize that I have passed through an experience of most remarkable character. Many of my friends have urged me to make it public, but I have always declined to do so. I feel, however, that it is a duty which I owe both to the public and my friends to tell the story.

"It is unquestionably a fact that thousands of men and women are in the greatest peril and do not for a moment realize it. What must be thought, therefore, when I state that I was virtually starving for several years and yet, blind that I was, did not understand it. To make it more clear, I will describe my condition. The first thing I noticed was a loss of appetite. I thought little of it at first and attributed it to biliousness, but instead of passing away it increased, and caused me very much annoyance. I then began to notice that I was losing flesh, and also that my weight was very irregular in its action. The slightest exertion tired me out completely and my nerves were all unstrung, and I had a bad taste in the mouth, sometimes accompanied with nausea and vomiting. I was also troubled by hot flashes, followed by chills, shortness of breath, palpitation of the heart, and a severe and distressing cough. It can readily be understood that these symptoms steadily growing worse made life a burden. Those who read these words may perhaps recognize familiar but none the less dangerous symptoms. You can see how dangerous they may become by learning how they eventually ruined my health.

"It was a long time before I consulted a physician but I finally did so. He examined me, and said: 'The trouble with you is that you do not digest your food properly, and one of your lungs is affected. Your system is in such a weakened condition that your food passes through your stomach without being assimilated. You are actually starving for want of nourishment. He then ordered me to take a tonic and plain cod liver oil twice a day.

"That was my first experience. I tried the cod liver oil, but instead of gaining flesh I lost, and what is worse the greasy oil nauseated me, making me feel more miserable. At that time I was reduced in weight to less than 100 pounds and every one declared that I was dying of consumption. I was a mere skeleton and hardly walk two blocks without being utterly exhausted.

"It would fill a whole volume to relate all the suffering I passed through after this. Suffice it to say that I visited a number of prominent physicians, all of whom had the same opinion about my condition, and each prescribed a different remedy. One doctor told me that cod liver oil emulsion was good, saying it would have a better effect than plain cod liver oil. I tried the emulsion but the glycerine in it gave me the most terrible dyspepsia. Another ordered beef, and another malt preparations. I tried these until the very sight of them was sickening. My stomach rebelled against them. Then I tried various food preparations of wheat, barley, oats and malt. They only fermented in my stomach, causing acid gases to rise in my throat till my head was ready to burst. I steadily ran down, had fearful night sweats, and coughed constantly. I suffered so intensely during this period that death would often have been a welcome relief.

"It was at this critical stage, when hope had almost been abandoned by my family, that I received a call from a very kind friend. He was shocked at my wasted run down condition. After hearing my unhappy story he said, 'I think I understand your case and I believe I know of something which will perhaps make a well man of you. In fact, if it will not help you, I know of nothing that will. It is certainly worth a trial. It is a scientific discovery which is creating a great stir in the highest medical circles. It is a pre-digested food which is capable of being absorbed by the system directly its swallowed. The stomach does not have to digest it. It enters at once into the blood and the vital parts of the body, giving nourishment to the flesh and blood. It builds up the system in a wonderful manner. He gave me a pamphlet which I read very carefully and I determined as a last resort to follow his advice.

"Hoping against hope, I began the food my friend had recommended. You can imagine with what anxiety I waited to see the result, even as a drowning man clutches at a straw. At first there was no perceptible change in my condition. Then, somehow, I seemed to be gradually losing my digestive stomach troubles. By degrees, one depressing symptom after another left me, until at last I was able to eat without suffering. Then I began to gain more rapidly. I found that the pre-digested food not only gave my system new life and vigor, but it toned up the stomach and my entire body in a remarkable way. It enabled other food to digest and it increased my vitality to an unusual extent. My recovery progressed to such a degree that in six weeks my weight was greatly increased, I went back to my work as a well man, and I am heartily glad that I owe my recovery and present condition wholly to Paskola, the great pre-digested food, which took from me the lowest physical depths and restored me to the life and health I now possess.

"My recovery shows that the fears of myself and family that I was suffering from consumption were unfounded. Since my recovery I have naturally given considerable thought on the subject and have corresponded to many people who have been troubled as I was. From my experience and what I have learned, I firmly believe that half the deaths that occur from so-called consumption and other wasting diseases are due directly to lack of nourishment. Loss of flesh is a sure sign of disease. No person whose weight did not decrease ever died of consumption. Indigestion and mal assimilation of food is the great American disease of the present day. Thousands of men and women too, are suffering just as I did and yet they do not know it and cannot realize it. It is a most insidious and most deceptive trouble. While it has certain symptoms, they vary with different people and it is not until a person is brought low by reduced flesh and disease that a full realization of the danger is felt.

"I have endeavored to give my experience in the hope that others who may be traveling the same dangerous road and yet do not realize it, may be warned in time and be restored as I was. I believe that all such people, provided they have not confirmed consumption, can be saved. If they will but take advantage of the latest and best discovery which science has made for their benefit, I believe that medicines will fail to cure such cases, but that a pre-digested food like Paskola, which can now be secured of any reputable druggist, will effect far better results than drugs. I shall be pleased to answer all inquiries that may be addressed to me upon the subject, although I make the above statement voluntarily and solely for the good I hope it may do for the suffering."
